

NOTICE: Possible COVID-19 Exposure, FRC District Championship

As always, we consider the health and safety of our teams and volunteers to be our top priority. With that in mind, we wanted to let you know that we have been notified of 2 volunteers who attended the FRC District Championship tested positive for COVID-19.

We encourage anyone who attended the event and has not been vaccinated, or if they have been vaccinated and are exhibiting symptoms, to get tested immediately with an at-home test or through their local health department. Testing allows people to take precautions, like quarantining, in a timely manner to stop the virus from spreading; infected people without symptoms can still spread the virus.

When to Get Tested

Washington State Department of Health Testing Guidelines

- Test when you feel sick. COVID-19 has a wide range of symptoms, so if you're not feeling well, it's best to get tested as soon as possible.
- Test when you've been exposed to someone who tested positive for COVID-19. Get tested immediately if you're showing symptoms. If you're not showing symptoms, wait five days after the exposure and then test.

Easily report your positive at-home test results

People who purchase over-the-counter test kits and receive a positive result should call the state COVID-19 hotline, 1-800-525-0127 then press # (press 7 for Spanish), as soon as they receive results. The hotline is available Monday from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Tuesday to Sunday (and observed holidays) 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Language assistance is available.

While we cannot say when or how this person came in contact with the virus, we are very grateful that they notified us of this situation. Remember that all reports to FIRST Washington will remain confidential and individual contact information will only be shared with local health departments, if requested. If you are contacted by a local health official, you will not be asked to provide any personal information.
